Thank You

The flowers at Putnoe Heights Church this week have been given by Veta Hudson-Rae, to celebrate her own birthday and the birthday of her grandson, Samuel Hudson Lett.

The flowers at St Mark's this week have been given by Judith Stanton and family to celebrate the golden wedding of Ann & Patrick Savage, who are the main helpers at Monday Whist Drives.

We are always grateful for any donations for flowers, perhaps to celebrate an anniversary or in memory of a loved one. Please contact Miss Marion Prior 303254 (St Mark's) or Miss Jennie Cooper 404950 (Putnoe Heights)

Prayer for Sunday

God our Saviour, your care for us has neither measure nor end. Help us to respond to your love in our daily living; to pray more fervently, to share our faith more openly and to seek first your Kingdom and its righteousness; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen. Michael Townsend

Bible Notes

Ordinary 25 Year A

Verse of Scripture Jonah 4:2

You are a gracious and compassionate God, slow to anger and abounding in love, a God who relents from sending calamity.

A Collect Prayer - Before we read we pray

Almighty God, you have made us for yourself, and our hearts are restless till they find their rest in you: pour your love into our hearts and draw us to yourself, and so bring us at last to your heavenly city where we shall see you face to face; through Jesus Christ your Son our Lord, who is alive and reigns with you, in the unity of the Holy Spirit, one God, now and for ever. Amen

First Reading – Jonah 3 : 10– 4:11

When God saw what they did and how they turned from their evil ways, he had compassion and did not bring upon them the destruction he had threatened. But Jonah was greatly displeased and became angry. He prayed to the LORD, "O LORD, is this not what I said when I was still at home? That is why I was so quick to flee to Tarshish. I knew that you are a gracious and compassionate God, slow to anger and abounding in love, a God who relents from sending calamity. Now, O LORD, take away my life, for it is better for me to die than to live." But the LORD replied, "Have you any right to be angry?" Jonah went out and sat down at a place east of the city. There he made himself a shelter, sat in its shade and waited to see what would happen to the city. Then the LORD God provided a vine and made it grow up over Jonah to give shade for his head to ease his discomfort, and Jonah was very happy about the vine. But at dawn the next day God provided a worm, which chewed the vine so that it withered. When the sun rose, God provided a scorching east wind, and the sun blazed on Jonah's head so that he grew faint. He wanted to die, and said, "It would be better for me to die than to live." But God said to Jonah, "Do you have a right to be angry about the vine?" "I do," he said. "I am angry enough to die." But the LORD said, "You have been concerned about this vine, though you did not tend it or make it grow. It sprang up overnight and died overnight. But Nineveh has more than a hundred and twenty thousand people who cannot tell their right hand from their left, and many cattle as well. Should I not be concerned about that great city (Reader: This is the word of the Lord -- Thanks be to God)

Second Reading - Philippians 1: 21-30

I eagerly expect and hope that I will in no way be ashamed, but will have sufficient courage so that now as always Christ will be exalted in my body, whether by life or by death. For to me, to live is Christ and to die is gain. If I am to go on living in the body, this will mean fruitful labor for me. Yet what shall I choose? I do not know! I am torn between the two: I desire to depart and be with Christ, which is better by far; but it is more necessary for you that I remain in the body. Convinced of this, I know that I will remain, and I will continue with all of you for your progress and joy in the faith, so that through my being with you again your joy in Christ Jesus will overflow on account of me. Whatever happens, conduct yourselves in a manner worthy of the gospel of Christ. Then, whether I come and see you or only hear about you in my absence, I will know that you stand firm in one spirit, contending as one man for the faith of the gospel without being frightened in any way by those who oppose you. This is a sign to them that they will be destroyed, but that you will be saved—and that by God. For it has been granted to you on behalf of Christ not only to believe on him, but also to suffer for him, since you are going through the same struggle you saw I had, and now hear that I still have. (Reader: This is the word of the Lord -- Thanks be to God)

Third Reading - Mathew 20: 1-16

"For the kingdom of heaven is like a landowner who went out early in the morning to hire men to

So the last will be first,
and the first
will be last.

Matthew 20.16

work in his vineyard. He agreed to pay them a denarius for the day and sent them into his vineyard. "About the third hour he went out and saw others standing in the marketplace doing nothing. He told them, 'You also go and work in my vineyard, and I will pay you whatever is right.' So they went.

"He went out again about the sixth hour and the ninth hour and did the same thing. About the eleventh hour he went out and found still others standing around. He asked them, 'Why have you been standing here all day long doing nothing?' " 'Because no one has hired us,' they answered.

"He said to them, 'You also go and work in my vineyard.'

"When evening came, the owner of the vineyard said to his foreman, 'Call the workers and pay them their wages, beginning with the last ones hired and going on to the first.' "The workers who were hired about the eleventh hour came and each received a denarius. So when those came who were hired first, they expected to receive more. But each one of them also received a denarius. When they received it, they began to grumble against the landowner. 'These men who were hired last worked only one hour,' they said, 'and you have made them equal to us who have borne the burden of the work and the heat of the day.' "But he answered one of them, 'Friend, I am not being unfair to you. Didn't you agree to work for a denarius? Take your pay and go. I want to give the man who was hired last the same as I gave you. Don't I have the right to do what I want with my own money? Or are you envious because I am generous?' "So the last will be first, and the first will be last." (Reader: This is the word of the Lord - Thanks be to God)

Commentary

This parable doesn't appear in either of the other two Synoptic Gospels, (Mark and Luke) so must have come from the missing "Q" source. It has such a complex and difficult meaning that we must imagine that Matthew's hearers must have found it as disconcerting as we do. Jesus often used parables based on the farming practises of his time. This one is definitely not meant to be taken as advice on how to achieve good industrial relations with your agricultural workers.

Many casual labourers lived a desperately hand-to-mouth existence. Whether they were able to get a day's work, and thus a day's pay, was the difference between starvation and food for the family. We must imagine these workers as a ragged and exhausted bunch, hanging about, hoping to catch the eye of the foreman. We must imagine their frustration and disappointment when they were the ones ignored and passed over. We can feel the relief of the men who were pulled out of the crowd and given work! With these powerful feelings in our minds we can turn back to the story. Jesus was using the tale as a metaphor about salvation. He was returning to a theme he addressed a number of times in his ministry – the belief that some Christians held, that they had earned God's love and salvation, that they had put in the time and the effort and were entitled to their spiritual reward. In the parable the length of service in the vineyard stands for the length of time that Christians have believed in and served the Lord. The long-serving Christians were expecting brownie points and bigger rewards for having done more for longer. Jesus blew away this kind of spiritual book keeping. This parable is similar in spirit to the complaints of the hard working brother who looked after the farm while his prodigal brother went off partying. It echoes of the disbelief of those who heard Jesus promise paradise to the thief who hung next to him on the Cross. God's forgiveness is shown to be spontaneous and unbelievably generous. Jesus shows that once a person has chosen to love the Lord, all barriers are down. The new convert is as deeply loved and highly valued as a long serving believer. This seems unfair until we remember two things: firstly that God's love for us is perfect and not partial, and cannot be graded nor meted out in grudging pieces; secondly that we are all unworthy of that love and receive it as a gift, not as a right. Joan Crossley

Meditation

In the story from the book of Jonah today, Jonah is in a massive sulk! Everything is bad, and awful and he is angry enough to die! When God tries to reason with him, comparing Jonah's suffering to the much worse suffering of thousands, Jonah simply does not want to understand. He is locked into the prison of his own misery and self-pity. The story makes a timeless point: that we all tend to see the world from our own selfish perspective. We can feel sorrow over the fate of starving millions, but if we stand up and stub our toe, their sufferings are instantly eclipsed and forgotten beside our own! That temporary self- absorption can grow into a lifelong problem. Our faith commands us to try and love others as deeply as we love ourselves, to feel their pain as acutely as we feel our own. It can be done. The only truly happy people I have ever met are those who can escape from the tyranny of their own problems and feelings and empathise with the feelings of others. Joan Crossley

Prayers.

We hold up our smallness to your greatness, our fear to your love, our tiny act of giving to your generosity, ourselves to you. Amen. (Monica Furlong)

Jesus, who was lost and found in the garden, never to be lost again. Stand by us in the darkness of our crucifixions, as the women stood by you. Die and rise with us in the suffering of the world, be reborn with us, as love and hope and faith and endurance outlast cruelty and death. Amen (Monica Furlong)

Post Communion Prayer. Lord Jesus Christ, though we have held and handled bread and wine, we can never confine or contain you; yet, in this sacrament you are closer to us than our own thoughts. Fill us with your peace, and come into every corner of our complex lives, O lord of love. (Angela Ashwin)

Rest In Peace

On the Sunday following a funeral service we remember in church those who have died. We light a candle to symbolise the light of Christ which eternally shines and brings hope. If you would like a person remembered in our service when the candle is lit, perhaps on an anniversary or birthday, please inform the ministers, or telephone the church office.

May the souls of all the faithful departed through the mercy of God, rest in peace and rise in glory. Amen.'

Special Offer to readers of Partnership News

There is a concert at Elstow Abbey on Saturday 24 September 2005: This is being organised by SSAFA-Forces Help in partnership with The Royal National Mission to Deep Sea Fishermen and features the local group "Patchwork". The concert will start at 7.30 pm; tickets are priced at £8 each which includes a glass of wine or soft drink in the interval.

Readers can attend this concert free. If you intend taking up this offer please ring Pam Kinselley on Bedford 354480 soon, so that we can get sufficient supplies. What an offer!!

Thank you to Chris Izzard and all those who helped with the Auction of Promises. Also to those who attended or bid on the night

Second Hymn

Jesus' love is very wonderful,
Jesus' love is very wonderful,
Jesus' love is very wonderful,
O wonderful love!
So high, you can't get over it,
So low, you can't get under it,
So wide, you can't get round it,
O wonderful love!
