Thank You

The flowers at Putnoe Heights Church this week have been given by Val Peacock in memory of her husband Trevor, and by Barbara Whittingstall with treasured memories of her loving husband Peter.

We are grateful when people make donations towards flowers perhaps to celebrate a special occasion such as an anniversary or in memory of a loved one. Please contact Miss Marion Prior 303254 (St Mark's) or Ann Hitt 404186 (Putnoe Heights) or add your name to the rota in the foyers.

Prayer for This Week

May it please you, O Lord, to enlighten my heart
with the fire of your love.
I offer my hands to do your work,
my lips to sing your praise
and my life to proclaim your glory.
Look upon my neighbours in their needs and guide me and bless me
as I serve you in them;
for Jesus' sake. Amen.

Ordinary 30

Opening Sentence from Scripture - Collect (Before we read we pray)

Collect Prayer

Eternal God, giver of love and peace, you call your children to live together as one family. Give us grace to learn your ways and to do your will, that we may bring justice and peace to all people, in the name of Jesus Christ. Amen.

Old Testament Reading – Jeremiah Chapter 14:7-10, 19-22

Although our sins testify against us, O LORD, do something for the sake of your name. For our backsliding is great; we have sinned against you. O Hope of Israel, its Saviour in times of distress, why are you like a stranger in the land, like a traveller who stays only a night? Why are you like a man taken by surprise, like a warrior powerless to save? You are among us, O LORD, and we bear your name; do not forsake us! This is what the LORD says about this people: "They greatly love to wander; they do not restrain their feet. So the LORD does not accept them; he will now remember their wickedness and punish them for their sins."

Have you rejected Judah completely? Do you despise Zion? Why have you afflicted us so that we cannot be healed? We hoped for peace but no good has come, for a time of healing but there is only terror. O LORD, we acknowledge our wickedness and the guilt of our fathers; we have indeed sinned against you. For the sake of your name do not despise us; do not dishonour your glorious throne. Remember your covenant with us and do not break it. Do any of the worthless idols of the nations bring rain? Do the skies themselves send down showers? No, it is you, O LORD our God. Therefore our hope is in you, for you are the one who does all this.

(This is the word of the Lord -- All: Thanks be to God)

Second Reading 2 Timothy 4:6-8, 16-18

For I am already being poured out like a drink offering, and the time has come for my departure. I have fought the good fight, I have finished the race, I have kept the faith.

Now there is in store for me the crown of righteousness, which the Lord, the righteous Judge, will award to me on that day--and not only to me, but also to all who have longed for his appearing. At my first defence, no one came to my support, but everyone deserted me. May it not be held against them. But the Lord stood at my side and gave me strength, so that through me the message might be fully proclaimed and all the Gentiles might hear it. And I was delivered from the lion's mouth. The Lord will rescue me from every evil attack and will bring me safely to his heavenly kingdom. To him be glory for ever and ever. Amen.

(This is the word of the Lord—All: Thanks be to God)

Gospel Reading – Luke 18:9-14

To some who were confident of their own righteousness and looked down on everybody else, Jesus told this parable: "Two men went up to the temple to pray, one a Pharisee and the other a tax collector. The Pharisee stood up and prayed about himself: 'God, I thank you that I am not like other men--robbers, evildoers, adulterers--or even like this tax collector. I fast twice a week and give a tenth of all I get.' "But the tax collector stood at a distance. He would not even look up to heaven, but beat his breast and said, 'God, have mercy on me, a sinner.' "I tell you that this man, rather than the other, went home justified before God. For everyone who exalts himself will be humbled, and he who humbles himself will be exalted.

(This is the word of the Lord—All: Thanks be to God)

Post Communion Prayer

Lord, we pray that your grace may always precede and follow us, and make us continually to be given to all good works; through Jesus Christ our Lord.

Hymns for Sunday (Please distribute Mission Praise and Morning Worship)

1. As the deer pants for the water 37
2. Lord the light of your love 445
3. Come let us sing of a wonderful love 94
4. O for a heart to praise my God 495
5. Great is thy faithfulness 200

Commentary

In the parable of the Pharisee and tax collector at prayer, the Pharisee is often depicted in a negative light—he's the bad guy in the story. How vain and arrogant he is! But he wouldn't be seen as the bad guy to those listening to Jesus. The tax collector would be the villain in the story to them. His job meant he collected taxes for the Romans. When Jesus mentions his presence in the parable his hearers would have instinctively thought, "Traitor—lowest of the low!" What's more, if there were any doubt about the quality of their lives, both men stated their moral status quite clearly, as we can hear in their prayers.

The Pharisee is a good person who would have been admired by his contemporaries. He was so "holy" that he did more than was obliged by religious law. Deuteronomy required that a tithe be paid on the fruits of the flock and the harvest. Note that the Pharisee tithes his "whole income." He was going above and beyond what he was obliged to do.

So, we can presume that his description of his moral life is accurate: he is, "not like the rest of humanity—greedy, dishonest, adulterous." He leads a better life than "even this tax collector." His problem isn't that he is not a good and observant person. People observing the Pharisee leave the Temple after prayer that day would have agreed with his self assessment. He was to be admired for his exemplary behavior; while the tax collector would be despised for his morally bankrupt life. The lines are clearly drawn—case closed.

Not so fast! Remember Jesus is telling a parable and parables never go in the "proper" direction—the one we anticipate and consider inevitable. Trying to use mere human logic and reckoning never really works with the parables. The parables don't conform to conventional human wisdom. Today's parable is a good example that when we enter into the world of the parable we are in a whole new reality. It's called "the kingdom of God."

No one could ever call the kingdom Jesus came to proclaim "logical." Thank God! What chance would we have if logic and pure human justice were applied to our lives? Instead, today's parable shows us once again that God's ways are illogical by human reckoning. God's justice is about grace, and grace is not measured out using balancing scales like the kind depicted in the hands of our famous legal statute of Blindfolded Justice. Today's parable is about God's justice—it's given to the truly sorrowful and missed by those who think they have to earn it.

If what the Pharisee said about himself was true, what's the problem? Well, he is looking in the wrong direction. He is praying with his focus on his own life. Notice for example, how many times he refers to himself—"I". God seems no more than an outside observer to the man's prayer and his list of accomplishments.

Some people think our prayer can change God's mind. Actually, true prayer will change us. But there was no chance that the Pharisee's prayer would have any transformative effect on him. He seems to think that his extra good life has earned him the reward of salvation; that God owes him a reward for his religious good works. People seeing the Pharisee leave the Temple that day would have seen a very satisfied person who had performed his religious duties.

But can you recognize the heresy of works in his focus on his own achievements? Where is the gift of God in the man's life? The Pharisee is so focused on his good works that he fails to see God's activity in his life. The source of a person's goodness doesn't begin in the person, it comes from God. God is the gift giver and our goodness reflects God's goodness in us.

Luke tells us that Jesus address this parable "to those who were convinced of their own righteousness...." It's a cautionary tale about a tendency we religious people and religious institutions can have: the conviction that we alone possess the truth and know the way people should behave. The self-righteous Pharisee condemns anyone who does not meet his standards. The "righteous" draw a conclusion about the sinner and leave no room for dialogue and open exchange.

The tax collector focuses not on who he is, and not what meritorious things he has done, but on who he is not and what he has failed to do. In fact, unlike the Pharisee, he quickly turns his gaze away from himself and towards God. He is in need of God's blessing and cannot achieve it on his own. He is totally reliant on

God and surrenders himself into God's hands. When he left the Temple that day he would look the same to those observing him. But Jesus marks the difference they would not be able to see in him—he "went home justified." In biblical language that means he was delivered from his sin. How did that happen? What did the tax collector do to "merit" this forgiveness? Nothing. He was a sinner who turned completely to God for forgiveness and God's mercy responded.

The person who is in touch with his or her humanity will know that our relationship with God and others is a gift from our good God. But, if we are in touch with our humanity, we also know how fragile and sometimes fickle we can be and our potential to sin. So, the tax collector's prayer today is our prayer as well, "O God, be merciful to me a sinner." We have placed our trust in our God who has created us and provided us with ample reason to give praise for all the beauty and goodness within and around us. We also know we can trust the same God to forgive us when we have turned away and made ourselves the primary focus of our lives—like the Pharisee.

John Shea recalls the revelatory experience Thomas Merton had standing on a street corner in Louisville, Kentucky. Merton was overwhelmed by his love for all the people around him and how much he was not separated from them, but one with them. He said, "Thank God, thank God that I am like other [people], that I am only a man among others." Then, in further wonder, Merton exults in praise that, "God... is glorified in becoming a member of the human race. A member of the human race!" So, while we "humble self" as Jesus recommends, we remember with praise that we are not only united with each other in our humanity, but also with God who, in the great act of humility, became one of us in Jesus Christ.

Meditation

Gene Roddenberry created 'Star Trek', the science-fiction series. In an episode of 'Star Trek The Next Generation', the people who live on two moons are about to go to war with each other. With the help of the crew of the 'Enterprise', an ambassador persuades representatives of each group to trade places for a week, so that they will understand the others' point of view more clearly.

Having swapped places, both grow in their understanding of the other group. War is averted and they all live in peace. The Sioux Native Americans had a custom that, before leaving to visit members of another tribe, individuals would raise their hands and pray these words: "Great Spirit, help me never to judge another person without having first walked in their moccasins for two weeks."

Let us pray to be free of prejudices: Lord, lead me not to be hasty in jumping to conclusions about people. Influence me not to stereo-type individuals or make sweeping generalisations. Free me from prejudices which leave no-one free. Help me to appreciate that there are other ways of looking at things, realising that others can have as equally valid a view as mine. Inspire me to grow in the ability to understand others and think as generously of them as I would like them to think of me.

Prayers for Sunday and the week ahead

Eternal God, you have been our resting-place through the ages. Generations come and pass away, but you abide forever. We praise you for your presence among us. You bring us comfort amid our trials - clarity where confusion persists - peace in the midst of conflict - and hope of eternal life. Hear us now as we pray for your Church and the needs of the world, for you are the God of our lives. We pray for the Church of Jesus Christ; that, begun, maintained and promoted by the Holy Spirit, it may be true, engaging, glad, and active, doing your will. Let your church be always faithful, O God, and ready to promote the cause of compassionate love and peace.

We pray that as Christian disciples we may be a faithful witness in word and deed to the Good News of Christ's Love.

We pray for all who govern and hold authority in the nations of the world. We pray that everywhere upon this earth there may be justice and peace. We continue to pray for peace in the world, especially those involved in the fight against terrorism and those struggling to provide humanitarian aid.

Lord, we pray for all people in their daily life and work - for our families, friends, and neighbours, and for those who are alone. We name before you individuals and families experiencing personal hardship or facing an uncertain future, those who are separated from loved ones, those who grieve this today, and those who are sick in hospital or ill at home. Hear us Lord as we now lift up those people and those situations you have placed upon our hearts.

Christmas Shoebox Appeal The youth team at Putnoe Church are launching the Christmas Shoebox Appeal again this year. Via the Samaritan's Purse organisation filled shoe boxes will be delivered to some of the worlds poorest children, boys and girls between 2 to 14 years, in time for Christmas. If you could please donate any of the following items soft toys, jigsaws, building blocks, cars, dolls, soft balls, stationery items, stickers, puzzle books, toothbrushes/paste, soap, hairbrushes, hats and caps, necklaces, sweets (long sell by dates), bangles, sunglasses. We will also need empty shoeboxes and Christmas wrapping paper. Please leave at Putnoe Office for the youth team. Any question, contact Emma Gordon. Thank you." Alternatively if you would prefer to donate some money this can be used towards postage. The boxes need to be completed by the beginning of November.

Faith in Action. The £100 raised at a recent coffee morning has been allocated to the Lewis Kaire Mosquito Net Fund.

Emergency Relief Fund thank you to everybody who collects small change for us. If you would like to join us simply see the collector at the door before the service. So far we have sent £300 to Haiti and £300 to the Pakistan flood appeal. Sylvia Cohen Tel.343424

Thank you all so very much Putnoe Heights Congregation for the gorgeous autumn flowers for my husband Kevin and I which brighten our days and living room. A huge expression of gratitude to the partnership for all the sincere and caring prayers said on behalf of Kevin and I (Deborah) during our recent illnesses. An extra special expression of appreciation to Thursday morning prayer group and Monday house group at Wendy Waters House for all their prayers. Much appreciation for all the gifts given to our family during this extremely difficult time of food, plants, flowers, cards, letters, books, phone calls, hospital and home visits.

Kevin is home from Papworth Hospital and starts cardiac rehabilitation in 1 November. I am so thankful to know our precious Holy Jesus as my Lord and Saviour to guide me through our family's recent difficult times. I pray heaven's blessing upon each one of you in the partnership all our love from Kevin, and Deborah, Wallace and Sons

Sylvia Cohen After many years of service to Missions at Putnoe Sylvia Cohen has decided to retire; we are sorry to hear this, but would like to thank not only Sylvia but all of her fellow workers on the Mission Committee. The Leadership Team are looking for a replacement for Sylvia and, although we realise this is a hard act to follow, think this is an opportunity for someone who is interested in the wider world as well as that close to home. This would involve supporting our current venture, including beds at Kisiizi, receiving literature relating to this and also coordinating fund raising for any new projects. This is important work which people at Putnoe have supported for many years and this support is still needed. Anyone interested in this important position please see Jean Kirk or other members of the Leadership team.

Rest In Peace

On the Sunday following a funeral service we remember in church those who have died. We light a candle to symbolise the light of Christ which eternally shines and brings hope. If you would like a person remembered in our service when the candle is lit, perhaps on an anniversary or birthday, please inform the ministers, or telephone the church office.

Charles Leslie Bruty
Mary Daniels

May the souls of all the faithful departed through the mercy of God, rest in peace and rise in glory. Amen.'

Forthcoming Funerals

The funeral of Frank Diemer will take place at Bedford Crematorium at 10.45am on Wednesday 27th October.
