Bible Notes First Sunday of Lent Year B

Verse of Scripture Psalm 25:4

Show me your ways, O LORD, teach me your paths; guide me in your truth and teach me, for you are God my Saviour, and my hope is in you all day long.

A Collect Prayer - Before we read we pray

Almighty God, whose Son Jesus Christ fasted forty days in the wilderness, and was tempted as we are, yet without sin: give us grace to discipline ourselves in obedience to your Spirit; and, as you know our weakness, so may we know your power to save; through Jesus Christ your Son our Lord, who is alive and reigns with you, in the unity of the Holy Spirit, one God, now and for ever. Amen Common Worship

Heavenly father, your Son battled with the powers of darkness, and grew closer to you in the desert: help us to use these days to grow in wisdom and prayer that we may witness to your saving love in Jesus Christ our Lord. Common Worship Shorter Collects

First Reading - Genesis 9: 8-17

Then God said to Noah and to his sons with him: "I now establish my covenant with you and with your descendants after you and with every living creature that was with you--the birds, the livestock and all the wild animals, all those that came out of the ark with you--every living creature on earth. I establish my covenant with you: Never again will all life be cut off by the waters of a flood; never again will there be a flood to destroy the earth." And God said, "This is the sign of the covenant I am making between me and you and every living creature with you, a covenant for all generations to come: I have set my rainbow in the clouds, and it will be the sign of the covenant between me and the earth. Whenever I bring clouds over the earth and the rainbow appears in the clouds, I will remember my covenant between me and you and all living creatures of every kind. Never again will the waters become a flood to destroy all life. Whenever the rainbow appears in the clouds, I will see it and remember the everlasting covenant between God and all living creatures of every kind on the earth." So God said to Noah, "This is the sign of the covenant I have established between me and all life on the earth."

(Reader : This is the word of the Lord. All: Thanks be to God)

Second Reading - 1 Peter 3: 18-22

For Christ died for sins once for all, the righteous for the unrighteous, to bring you to God. He was put to death in the body but made alive by the Spirit, through whom also he went and preached to the spirits in prison who disobeyed long ago when God waited patiently in the days of Noah while the ark was being built. In it only a few people, eight in all, were saved through water, and this water symbolizes baptism that now saves you also--not the removal of dirt from the body but the pledge of a good conscience toward God. It saves you by the resurrection of Jesus Christ, who has gone into heaven and is at God's right hand--with angels, authorities and powers in submission to him.

(Reader : This is the word of the Lord. All: Thanks be to God)

Third Reading - Mark 1: 9-15

At that time Jesus came from Nazareth in Galilee and was baptized by John in the Jordan. As Jesus was coming up out of the water, he saw heaven being torn open and the Spirit descending on him like a dove. And a voice came from heaven: "You are my Son, whom I love; with you I am well pleased." At once the Spirit sent him out into the desert, and he was in the desert forty days, being tempted by Satan. He was with the wild animals, and angels attended him. After John was put in prison, Jesus went into Galilee, proclaiming the good news of God. "The time has come," he said. "The kingdom of God is near. Repent and believe the good news!"

((Reader : This is the word of the Lord. All: Thanks be to God)

Post Communion Prayer

Lord God, you have renewed us with the living bread from heaven; by it you nourish our faith, increase our hope, and strengthen our love: teach us always to hunger for him who is the true and living bread, and enable us to live by every word that proceeds from out of your mouth; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen

Commentary Commentary on Mark 1:9-13

The Baptism of Jesus is significant as it marks Jesus out as God's anointed and chosen one. It tells us that Jesus is the Messiah. From now on there can be no doubt. It is a dramatic event as Jesus, we are told, sees heaven torn open and the Spirit descends on him as a dove. This is heavily laden with symbolism, with Heaven broken open, which indicates that here in the person of Jesus there is a new way to the presence of God. It was believed at the time that God in some way resided in Heaven, which is a place above where we exist, so with heaven now opened, we have access to a place which had only been restricted before.

A dove is also witnessed and this symbolises the blessing of God resting upon Jesus. It might seem like a strange way to talk about blessing and the Holy Spirit, but then how do you describe such a nebulous concept as the Spirit of God. To put it into a physical form makes it all the more real and tangible. The Holy Spirit is not just something out there and mysterious, but it is seen resting on Jesus, filling him and transforming his life.

Then there is the Voice of God speaking to Jesus and others who witnessed his Baptism. Are the words meant for Jesus or for the crowd or for us? Jesus hears the confirmation that he is the Son of God, that he is chosen, that he is called by God. Those around Jesus witness this too, that in their midst is the Son of God. Make no mistake, the Messiah is here, is the message. And so do we through the Gospel, hear the affirmation that here is the chosen one of God, that Jesus is the Messiah, he is our Messiah, he is your Messiah and mine too.

In Mark's account Jesus is then sent into the desert to be tempted, by the Devil, for forty days. A time of testing, a time of trial, a time of reflecting, a time of wrestling with doubt, fear and anxiety. It is a time which prepares Jesus for his Ministry. We are now in the season of Lent, which is forty days, a distant echo of the testing Jesus experienced in the wilderness. To share in that experience of deprivation, we often choose to give up something in Lent. But what does this sacrifice mean to us if we can replace it with another thing to compensate our deprivation? How seriously do we take Lent, do we adequately use the time to reflect upon our lives and the journey we take with God? Do we look into the inner recesses of our personality and really get to grips with who we are? Self-knowledge is a wonderful mystery! You might very well say, "I know who I am and I don't need to spend 40 days looking at myself. I'm OK thank you." But do we really know what it is that motivates us? Do we really know why we feel jealous, angry, sad, depressed, joyful? Lent can be a time of assessment, reassessment, moving on, discerning what we feel called to do, what God is asking of us and what it is that we need to do with our lives as a consequence.

I hope and pray that each of us may use the season of Lent over the next 5 weeks, to move into a deeper understanding of who we are and into a deeper relationship with God. Neil Bramble-Chapman

Meditation

Forty days lie before each one of us
Forty days in which to make a difference
Forty days in which to seek and learn to live in the knowledge of your presence
Forty days in which to become more aware God with us.

Lent is used in the church as a 40 day time of prayer and repentance in preparation for Easter. It is a good time for us to have some religious reflection and contemplation.

Why 40 Days? In counting the 40 days of Lent the western church excludes Sundays (which is celebrated as the day of Christ's resurrection) whereas the eastern church includes them. 40 is a significant number in Jewish-Christian scripture:

In Genesis, the flood which destroyed the earth was brought about by 40 days and nights of rain. The Hebrews spent 40 years in the wilderness before reaching the land promised to them by God. Moses fasted for 40 days before receiving the ten commandments on Mount Sinai.

Jesus spent 40 days fasting in the wilderness in preparation for his ministry.

Most Christians regard Jesus' time in the wilderness as the key event for the duration of Lent.

Why is it called Lent? Lent is an old English word meaning to lengthen. Lent is observed in spring, when the days begin to get longer.

The colour purple Purple is the symbolic colour used in some churches throughout Lent, for drapes and altar frontals. Purple is used for two reasons: firstly because it is associated with mourning and so anticipates the pain and suffering of the crucifixion, and secondly because purple is the colour associated with royalty, and celebrates Christ's resurrection and sovereignty.

Dear brothers and sisters in Christ:

the early Christians observed with great devotion the days of our Lord's passion and resurrection, and it became the custom of the Church that before the Easter celebration there should be a forty-day season of spiritual preparation.

During this season converts to the faith were prepared for Holy Baptism.

It was also a time when persons who had committed serious sins and had separated themselves from the community of faith were reconciled by penitence and forgiveness, and restored to participation in the life of the Church.

In this way the whole congregation was reminded of the mercy and forgiveness proclaimed in the gospel of Jesus Christ and the need we all have to renew our faith.

I invite you, therefore, in the name of the Church, to observe a holy Lent:

by self-examination and repentance;

by prayer, fasting, and self-denial;

and by reading and meditating on God's Holy Word.

Prayers for Sunday and the week ahead.

Loving Father, today is the first Sunday of Lent.

Over the next six weeks, with your help, we are going to prepare for Easter.

From today we are making a new start with a bigger effort to be more loving and kind.

Help us to show concern for the less fortunate, the hungry and the poor, and especially help us to speak to you more often.

We ask this through your Son, Jesus, whose death and resurrection we will be thinking about in the next few weeks. Amen. Tony Castle.

Grant, we beseech thee, O Lord, that by the observance of this Lent we may advance in the knowledge of the mystery of Christ, and show forth his mind in conduct worthy of our calling; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Gelasian Sacramentary

Come, our Light, and illumine our darkness.

Come, our Life, and raise us from death.

Come, our Physician, and heal our wounds.

Come, Flame of Divine Love, and burn up our sins.

Come, our King, sit upon the throne of our hearts and reign there.

For you alone are my King and my Lord. Dimitrii of Rostov

Mildmay Mission – A BIG thank-you

On behalf of Mildmay I'd like to thank everyone who gave so generously to the Mildmay appeal which we are now closing. There has been a magnificent response from individuals and groups who have contributed and to become involved with this project. Together, through smartie tubes, personal giving, church and group donations, lunches, pizza evenings, musical events, the sale of various goods across the partnership, and many other events we

Rest In Peace

On the Sunday following a funeral service we remember in church those who have died. We light a candle to symbolise the light of Christ which eternally shines and brings hope. If you would like a person remembered in our service when the candle is lit, perhaps on an anniversary or birthday, please inform the ministers, or telephone the church office.

May the souls of all the faithful departed through the mercy of God, rest in peace and rise in glory. Amen.'

have been able to raise the incredible total of just over £3800, exceeding the ambitious target we set for ourselves back in December. This money will be used by Mildmay to pay for fuel to bring sick children to the Mildmay Centre in Uganda and for treatment and counselling for people suffering from HIV/AIDS related illnesses both in the UK and in Africa.

When we started the appeal we reflected that, in many ways, the topic of HIV/AIDS can be difficult or controversial, sometimes because of the preconceived ideas of how the disease is contracted and spread. Whatever we believe, through this project we have been able to support tangibly the work of a Christian organisation which is dedicated to sharing God's love and improving the lives of those who suffer from HIV/AIDS. If you still want to make a donation it's not too late but please give any contributions to one of the Ministers or the church offices as soon as possible. Through your efforts and generosity of spirit we have been able to make a difference to people who are often ignored or marginalised in our society, and that has to be even more important than reaching any target. Thank You Sam Cappleman

Our special thanks to Sam for organising this fundraising which has achieved such a spectacular result
