Trinity Sunday

Opening Verse of Scripture Acts 1:8

You shall receive power when the Holy Spirit has come upon you; and you shall be my witnesses .

Collect Prayer for the Day — Before we read we pray

Almighty and eternal God, you have revealed yourself as Father, Son, and Holy Spirit, and live and reign in the perfect unity of love. Hold us firm in this faith, that we may know you in all your ways and evermore rejoice in your eternal glory, who are three Persons in one God, now and forever. Amen. (Church of S. India)

First Bible Reading Isaiah 6:1-8

In the year that King Uzziah died, I saw the Lord seated on a throne, high and exalted, and the train of his robe filled the temple. Above him were seraphs, each with six wings: With two wings they covered their faces, with two they covered their feet, and with two they were flying.

And they were calling to one another: "Holy, holy, holy is the LORD Almighty; the whole earth is full of his glory." At the sound of their voices the doorposts and thresholds shook and the temple was filled with smoke. "Woe to me!" I cried. "I am ruined! For I am a man of unclean lips, and I live among a people of unclean lips, and my eyes have seen the King, the LORD Almighty." Then one of the seraphs flew to me with a live coal in his hand, which he had taken with tongs from the altar. With it he touched my mouth and said, "See, this has touched your lips; your guilt is taken away and your sin atoned for." Then I heard the voice of the Lord saying, "Whom shall I send? And who will go for us?" And I said, "Here am I. Send me!" (This is the word of the Lord – Thanks be to God)

Second Reading Romans 8: 12-17

Brothers and sisters, we have an obligation - but it is not to the sinful nature, to live according to it. For if you live according to the sinful nature, you will die; but if by the Spirit you put to death the misdeeds of the body, you will live, because those who are led by the Spirit of God are sons of God. For you did not receive a spirit that makes you a slave again to fear, but you received the Spirit of sonship. And by him we cry, "Abba, Father." The Spirit himself testifies with our spirit that we are God's children. Now if we are children, then we are heirs - heirs of God and co-heirs with Christ, if indeed we share in his sufferings in order that we may also share in his glory.

(Reader: This is the word of the Lord - Thanks be to God)

Gospel Reading John 3: 1-17

There was a man of the Pharisees named Nicodemus, a member of the Jewish ruling council. He came to Jesus at night and said, "Rabbi, we know you are a teacher who has come from God. For no-one could perform the miraculous signs you are doing if God were not with him." In reply Jesus declared, "I tell you the truth, no-one can see the kingdom of God unless he is born again." "How can a man be born when he is old?" Nicodemus asked. "Surely he cannot enter a second time into his mother's womb to be born!" Jesus answered, "I tell you the truth, no-one can enter the kingdom of God unless he is born of water and the Spirit. Flesh gives birth to flesh, but the Spirit gives birth to spirit. You should not be surprised at my saying, 'You must be born again.' The wind blows wherever it pleases. You hear its sound, but you cannot tell where it comes from or where it is going. So it is with everyone born of the Spirit." "How can this be?" Nicodemus asked.

"You are Israel's teacher," said Jesus, "and do you not understand these things? I tell you the truth, we speak of what we know, and we testify to what we have seen, but still you people do not accept our testimony. I have spoken to you of earthly things and you do not believe; how then will you believe if I speak of heavenly things? No-one has ever gone into heaven except the one who came from heaven - the Son of Man. Just as Moses lifted up the snake in the desert, so the Son of Man must be lifted up, that everyone who believes in him may have eternal life. For God so loved the world that he gave his one and only Son, that whoever believes in him shall not perish but have eternal life. For God did not send his Son into the world to condemn the world, but to save the world through him." (Reader: This is the word of the Lord - Thanks be to God)

TRINITY

Post Communion Prayer

Almighty and eternal God, you have revealed yourself as Father, Son and Holy Spirit, and live and reign in the perfect unity of love: hold us firm in this faith, that we may know you in all your ways and evermore rejoice in your eternal glory, who are three Persons yet one God, now and for ever. Amen

Commentary The title 'Trinity Sunday' should not provide us with a day to indulge in theological speculation. Trinity Sunday is day consider the reality of God in our lives. I know a 56 year old woman who is a vibrant and fun-loving woman. She loves her family and they return that love. She has been described by her children as "the glue that holds the family together." She had severe back pain and an X-ray revealed a broken vertebrae. But when she was in surgery they discovered cancer. Further tests showed the cancer had spread to her lungs. It had metastasized. Her daughter called a young woman friend and wept hysterically over the phone asking, "Why did God do this to her?" It is a question we have all heard during similar crises and maybe is a question we too have asked at similar times in our own lives. It is the question we ask out of pain and confusion, when life takes a harsh turn and threatens our faith.

It is really a Trinity question, isn't it? Who is our God? What is our God like? It isn't a question about church dogma or "heavenly riddles." When Jesus looked at what was coming at him in the Garden of Gethsemane he felt it was more than he could bear, so he asked God for it to be taken away. But God wanted to stick it out with us, not pull the emergency brake and get off. If Christ had been given a quick exit that night in the garden, then we would feel even lonelier in our struggles and pain. Instead God stayed with us; Christ showed us in his obedience that no matter how many physical or emotional stresses we have on us, God is not a stranger to our pain: no stranger to emotional pain – Jesus wept; no stranger to physical pain – Jesus was broken on the cross. That's in the scriptures.

What's not in the scriptures is that God sends us pain and suffering to test our faith. After all, what good parent would do a thing like that to a beloved child? And we do believe God loves us and that we are God's children, don't we? Paul reminds us in the letter to the Romans today, "The Spirit bears witness with our spirits that we are children of God,..."

What is also not in the scriptures is what some people say to others who are in pain to console them. "God never gives us more than we can bear." When people say things like that, I imagine God pressing down on someone to test their faith, but stopping just short of their breaking point. What a miserable and harsh God that would be! That's not the God we celebrate on this feast of the Trinity. Here's another one: "God helps those who help themselves." I can't tell you how many times I have heard that quote used to describe God. I have even heard people say that in scripture groups with open bibles on their laps and they quote it as if it were in the Bible they were holding. If we could help ourselves we wouldn't need God, would we? When we are struggling and feeling lonely in our pain, we don't need to hear about a God who will help us, but only if we can first help ourselves.

No – life has its ways of testing us; sometimes giving us more than we can bear. God is the one who helps us carry what life piles on us. Not only so we can just bear up under our burdens, but that we can even grow and mature through them. God can get us through to the other side of suffering stronger than when we first entered in. Now that's the triune God Jesus sends his disciples into the world to proclaim.

When Jesus sends out his disciples to baptize, it is in the name of the God we have come to know through him: "Father, Son and Holy Spirit." God the Creator – the source of life, the Creator who loves the works God had made. God the Christ – God in our flesh, who walked our walk all the way through death to resurrection. God the Spirit – the very life of God, in Jesus, offered us again here today as we celebrate and pray together.

How do we define the Trinity? Jesus tells us – "I am with you all days, until the end of the age." Jesus has "defined" God for us – revealed God already with us. So, when someone calls us on the phone or weeps on our shoulder, and asks, "Why did God do this to me? What have I done to deserve this?" We can respond, as the young woman did, "I don't understand all this. But I know God didn't put this suffering on your mother. God is with us in this and God is crying with us too." This young woman who said this to her friend is a mother with three small children – she was balancing the youngest on her hip as she gave this response to her friend. There she was, a theologian, explaining the Trinity in a way her grieving friend could understand and embrace!

Meditation Environment Sunday -- 7th June

The Archbishop of Canterbury is urging churches to use Environment Sunday (June 7) to pray for the planet and campaign for climate change in the run up to the important UN talks later this year in Copenhagen. Dr Williams said it was vital for Christians and people of all faiths to take a lead in praying and campaigning for action. A new deal at the UN summit could directly improve the lives of the world's poor whose living conditions are affected by climate change.

"This year the theme of the United Nation's World Environment Day is 'Your Planet Needs You-UNite to Combat Climate Change'. Whilst it will be for governments meeting in Copenhagen in December to agree a successor to the Kyoto regime for global reductions in carbon emissions - and we all want those to be both ambitious and deliverable - we have a part to play. Governments need to know that people want them to be ambitious. They need a mandate. So what can we do? I think there are two things we can do. We can, and we should, pray. Climate change is not only an environmental issue - probably the most important we face; it is also an issue of justice. As usual the poorest are likely to suffer the most though the richest have contributed most to pollute the atmosphere and accelerate global warming. So we can pray that a proper sense of responsibility (not least to the generations who will follow us) and of justice guides the hearts and the minds of the politicians who will meet in Copenhagen. This Sunday - Environment Sunday - is an obvious opportunity for us to focus our own hearts and minds on this issue. The second thing we can do is get involved in the preparations for Copenhagen. Between now and December there will be activity, lobbying and hard thinking going on in civil society as well as government in preparation for the Climate Summit. Many faith groups and civil society organizations, (and that includes the Church of England), will be organising events to heighten awareness of the issues and the opportunities which the summit brings. I shall be going to Copenhagen to support those and to emphasise the strength of the concern that people of faith have for the future well-being of our planet. Please include in your prayers this Environment Sunday all whose efforts in the months to come could make a real difference for the sustainability of our planet and we who live in it - it is God's creation that we are striving to care for and as God's children that we pray and act."

Prayers for Sunday and week ahead

To God the Father who first loved us and made us accepted in the Beloved Son. To God the Son who loved us and washed us from our sins in His own Blood, to God the Holy Spirit who sheds abroad the love of God in our hearts; to the one true God be all love and all glory for time and eternity. (Thomas Ken 1637-1711)

We pray for world peace, that ways of aggression and violence against fellow-humans and against God's creation may be renounced, and that world leaders may lessen the threat of nuclear destruction; and we pray especially for our leaders and all who strive to bring peace. Let there now be light for all, Light of Creation. (Worship in an Indian Context)

Father, you sent your Word to bring us truth and your Spirit to make us holy. Through them we come to know the mystery of your life. Help us to worship you, one God in three Persons, by proclaiming and living our faith in you. Grant this through our Lord Jesus Christ, your Son, who lives and reigns with you and the Holy Spirit, One God, for ever and ever. Amen.

Help us, O Lord, to conquer anger with gentleness; to subdue greed with generosity and to overcome apathy with fervour. Help us to forget ourselves and reach out to others. Teach us to be courageous in risk-taking, patient in suffering and attentive in prayer; grant this through Christ our Lord. Amen. Clement XI, 1649-1721

State-of-the-art Care Home with a family feel

The determination to create a lasting memorial for two loved children has been the driving force behind a stunning new MHA Care Home.

It is over 25 years since Clifton Ibbett’s daughters, Anita and Julia, were killed in a devastating road collision. It was his mother who suggested that the family trust be used to build a Care Home in their memory – something “has state-of-the-art as we can get it,” says Clifton.

The new nursing and dementia Care Home will be called ‘Anjulita Court’ and is due to open later this year on the outskirts of Bedford.

The dramatic triple arch frontage will welcome residents and visitors into an interior full of impressive open spaces, as well as facilities that include a hydrotherapy room, hairdressing salon, and a range of lounges – one of which is set up to allow film screenings.

Delighted to be working with MHA, which he describes as a leader in the field and willing to be innovative, Clifton sees the whole concept as pushing the boundaries of what is possible in a care facility. “My desire is that the Home will be part of the community. We want visitors to the nearby country park to come in and enjoy a snack meal.”

But what will really make Anjulita Court state-of-the-art, says Clifton – a life-long Methodist and former Action for Children trustee – isn’t the building but the organisation and staff running it. He describes Anjulita’s new manager as someone who’s “got that quality of care in her heart”.

Rest In Peace

On the Sunday following a funeral service we remember in church those who have died. We light a candle to symbolise the light of Christ which eternally shines and brings hope. If you would like a person remembered in our service when the candle is lit, perhaps on an anniversary or birthday, please inform the ministers, or telephone the church office.

'May the souls of all the faithful departed through the mercy of God, rest in peace and rise in glory. Amen.'
